Summary of the key changes between the Replacement Prospectus and Original Prospectus

On 2 June 2014 Connexion Media Limited (Company) lodged a Replacement Prospectus replacing the Prospectus originally lodged by the Company dated 28 April 2014 (and lodged with ASIC on that date) (Original Prospectus).

The Replacement Prospectus was lodged in response to the decision of ASIC (communicated to the Company by notice dated 14 May 2014) (Notice) to issue an interim stop order under s739(3) of the Corporations Act in relation to the Original Prospectus. The effect of the interim stop order was to prevent the Company offering, issuing, selling or transferring its shares (or any other securities) under the Original Prospectus. The Replacement Prospectus is lodged in response to, and addresses the issues raised by ASIC, in the Notice.

The key changes between the Replacement Prospectus and the Original Prospectus relate primarily to the sections headed Investment Highlights, Use of Funds (Section 1.9), Company and Business Overview (Section 2) and Risks (Section 4). In summary, these changes highlight the following:

- > in the Original Prospectus the Company stated that they expect the application to be certified and distributed by GM in late 2014 or early 2015. In this Replacement Prospectus the Company has deleted this forward looking statement and instead noted that the certification process with GM is underway, however the Company does not have a date for completion of the certification process and can give no guarantees that certification will occur;
- > in the Original Prospectus the Company stated that the Company does not expect to be in a position to receive anticipated revenue streams until it's application audience size is sufficiently large enough to be attractive for advertising purposes, anticipated to be approximately 6 months after first launch of the application in in-car systems. In this Replacement Prospectus, the Company has deleted this forward looking statement and instead the Company has highlighted that it has not entered into any contracts for its revenue generating activities and that it is possible that the Company may not establish a large enough audience size, may not compile sufficient data for on-sale to third parties and/or may not enter into data sale contracts and therefore cannot guarantee timing for revenue streams;
- > in the Original Prospectus the use of funds tables in section 1.9 were prepared on a "project basis", which made it difficult to reconcile against the contracted expenses disclosed in the Original Prospectus. In this Replacement Prospectus, the use of funds table has been amended to show budgeted expenses for expense categories disclosed in the Prospectus, and a more detailed description of the extent of activities to be undertaken by the Company under minimum subscription and full subscription has been included to support the statement that the Company will have sufficient working capital under each capital raise scenario;
- > how the company, as a start-up company, intends to compete in the market; and
- > the nature and status of the intellectual property to be acquired by the Company.

All images and pictures in the Original Prospectus have also been removed so as to avoid misrepresenting the nature, stage or scale of the Company's business.

While the Company did not necessarily agree with each of ASIC's concerns regarding the Original Prospectus, to avoid any risk that investors may be confused or that the Original Prospectus may be considered to be misleading or deceptive, the Replacement Prospectus contains additional wording to clarify and, as necessary, expand on each of the above issues.

Important Information

Historically, the Company's main activity had intended to be the rollout of an enhanced security monitoring system and access control system as part of the National Alarm Response System being established in China. As announced to the ASX on 24 February 2014, the Company has entered into a sale agreement pursuant to which it has agreed, subject to Shareholder approval and other conditions, to acquire 100% of the issued shares of Miroamer Pty Ltd (ACN 129 707 026) (Miroamer). Miroamer is the owner of certain intellectual property and software systems which facilitate internet radio capability with a focus on consumer vehicles. Accordingly, the acquisition of Miroamer will result in a significant change in the nature and scale of the Company's activities which requires approval of its Shareholders under Chapter 11 of the ASX Listing Rules. Such approval was sought and obtained by the Company at the General Meeting held on 22 April 2014. The Company's securities have been suspended from trading on ASX since 3 August 2012 and will not be reinstated until satisfaction of the conditions to the Offer and ASX approving the Company's re-compliance with the admission requirements of Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules.

There is a risk that the Company may not be able to meet the requirements of ASX for re-quotations on the ASX. In the event the conditions to the Offer are not satisfied or the Company does not receive conditional approval for re-quotations on ASX then the Company will not proceed with the Offer and will repay all application monies received.

This Replacement Prospectus is dated 2 June 2014 and was lodged with ASIC on that date. It replaces a prospectus dated 28 April 2014, relating to shares of the Company. Neither ASIC nor ASX takes any responsibility for the contents of this Prospectus or the merits of the investment to which this Prospectus relates. No securities will be issued on the basis of this Prospectus later than 13 months after the date of this Prospectus.

The Company has applied for admission of the Shares to quotation on ASX.

Who is making the offer?	Connexion Media Limited was incorporated on 26 June 1945 and is a public company listed on the ASX. The Company is proposing to acquire 100% of the issued shares in Miroamer Pty Ltd (ACN 129 707 026). The acquisition of Miroamer will result in a significant change in the nature and scale of the Company's activities. This requires the approval of Shareholders under Chapter 11 of the ASX Listing Rules, which was obtained at a meeting held on 22 April 2014 and the ASX approving the Company's re-compliance with the admission requirements of Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules.	Further information regarding the Company and the acquisition of Miroamer is set out in Section 2 of this Prospectus.
What is the Company's business?	The Company is seeking to change the nature of its business to technology development, with a focus on in-vehicle infotainment services and vehicle data analytics services. This change in business activities will commence with the acquisition of Miroamer.	Further information regarding the Company's business is set out in Section 2 of this Prospectus.
How will the Company make money?	Miroamer's maiden in-vehicle infotainment service is a global digital radio application that allows users to listen to AM/FM radio stations from anywhere in the world. This application has been designed to integrate directly with in-car systems and via a smartphone. General Motors (GM) have designed their own application framework for their vehicles to integrate directly with the in-car system. Miroamer is an application development partner of GM and has been working closely with GM to include Miroamer's global digital radio application in its application framework. If Miroamer's application is approved by GM and certified for distribution in its application framework, any revenue received by Miroamer will be shared with GM. To date, Miroamer has not generated any significant revenue from its operations predominately because its application is yet to be certified and distributed via in-car systems. The certification process with GM is underway, however the Company does not have a date for completion of the certification process and can give no guarantees that certification will occur.	Further information regarding the Company's business model is set out in Section 2 of this Prospectus.

How will the Company make money? continued	If its application is certified and distributed, the Company will not make money from use of its application. Instead it is intended that the Company will make money through: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ pre-roll audio advertising commercials; ▪ the on-sale of anonymous data collected from customer vehicles to interested parties for targeted advertising purposes; ▪ audio commercial sponsorship campaigns; and ▪ banner advertising on web services and smartphone applications. The Company does not expect to be in a position to receive these types of revenues until its application audience size is large enough to compile sufficient data to be attractive for on-sale to third parties for advertising and other purposes. It should be noted that the Company has not entered into any data on-sale contracts at this time. It is possible that the Company: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ may not establish a large enough audience size; and/or ▪ may not compile sufficient data for on-sale to third parties; and/or ▪ may not enter into data sale contracts, to generate any revenue.	Further information regarding the Company's business model is set out in Section 2 of this Prospectus.
What are the key dependencies affecting the Company?	The success of the Company will be subject to the following key dependencies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ the Company's applications being approved and certified by automotive producers, in particular GM, for distribution via App platforms; ▪ sufficient consumer uptake of its applications to generate sufficient data for on-sale to third parties for advertising and analytic purposes; ▪ identifying, and entering into contracts with, suitable counter-parties in respect of its proposed revenue generating activities; ▪ the third party services and open source software that are used by the Company continuing to be available on reasonable commercial terms; and ▪ the Company's key personnel (or suitable replacements) being retained to develop the Company's technology, and established and new customer relationships. 	Further information is set out in section 2.10 of this Prospectus.
What are the key benefits associated with the Company's business?	The Company is seeking to specialise in the development of in-vehicle infotainment services and vehicle data analytics services because of the focus of automotive manufacturers on making their vehicles web-connected. This is expected to enable the Company to access vehicle manufacturer's captive market of consumers. Whilst there are relatively low barriers to entry in the general application development market, in the Company's experience, applications tailored for the automotive sector have very long lead times before commercialisation and therefore in the opinion of Directors the barriers to entry are higher. Miroamer's current technology has been in development since 2008 and the Company considers that it is well positioned to capitalise on the introduction of web-connected vehicles.	Further information regarding the Company's business model and target markets is set out in Section 2 of this Prospectus.

What are the key risks associated with the Company's business, the Shares and the Offer?

Potential investors should be aware that subscribing for Shares the subject of this Prospectus involves a number of risks and an investment in the Company is speculative. Risk factors include the following:

There is a risk that the Company may not be able to meet the requirements of the ASX for re-quotations of its Shares on the ASX, which would result in investors' funds being returned and the Proposed Transaction not taking place.

- There is a risk that the Company's applications will not be approved and certified for distribution by GM or other automotive manufacturers and/or the Company will be required to make costly modifications to its applications in order to obtain the required certifications and approvals. The eventuation of any of these risks will negatively affect the Company's financial position.
- On successful completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Company will acquire trade secrets and other intellectual property rights that are important assets. Miroamer's intellectual property is primarily protected by way of confidentiality and trade secrets as well as the automatic copyright protection provided at law, none of which are registerable. Accordingly, the Company may not be able to prevent others from unauthorised use of its intellectual property.
- There is a risk that, as marketable technologies continue to develop in the IT industry, there may be certain information technology and product developments that supersede, and render obsolete, the existing and future product offerings of Miroamer, which would negatively affect the Company's financial position.
- The internet radio streaming market is strongly contested by a number of well-respected organisations. There is the risk that Miroamer will be unable to compete in this landscape. Miroamer's performance may be affected by the level of competition in the regions in which it operates, which may result in general price reductions, reduced operating margins and a loss of market share.
- The Company considers that the automotive infotainment market is integral to its success. However, growth in this market may be slower than expected.
- Between 50% and 70% of the Shares of the Company (depending on the level of subscription under the Offer) will be held in escrow for between 12 and 24 months and trading in Shares may be less liquid during this period.

Potential investors are urged to consider the risk factors of the Company set out in Section 4 of this Prospectus and consult their professional advisers before deciding to apply for Shares pursuant to this Prospectus.

What key financial information do investors need to know?	On 11 June 2013, the Administrator was appointed as administrator of the Company and the securities of the Company were suspended from official quotation on 3 August 2012. At a meeting of the Company's creditors on 10 September 2013, the creditors resolved that the Company enter into a Deed of Company Arrangement put forward by Mi Media Holdings Limited which was executed on 19 September 2013 by the Company and the Administrator. The DOCA was fully effectuated on 22 February 2014 and the claims of creditors were fully satisfied. The only remaining financial liability for the Company was a secured loan totalling $320,817 (as at 31 December 2013), repayable on or before February 2015 as per the terms of the DOCA. It is proposed that this secured loan will be repaid out of the funds raised pursuant to the Offer. As a result of the administration and the Proposed Transaction, it is not possible to evaluate the Company's future prospects based on past performance. The Directors are confident that the Company's past performance should not impact on the future opportunities of the Company. The Board considers that the capital being raised under this Prospectus will enable the Company to continue the current operations of Miroamer which are being acquired by the Company.	Financial information relating to the Company and Miroamer is set out in Section 5 and the Investigating Accountant's Report is set out in Section 6 of this Prospectus.
Who will benefit from the Offer?	The Offer is being made to acquire Miroamer and to satisfy ASX requirements for re-listing following a change to the nature and scale of the Company's activities as a result of the acquisition of Miroamer. Mi Media Holdings Limited, as vendor of the entire issued share capital of Miroamer, will benefit from the Offer, as the Proposed Transaction is conditional on the Company obtaining conditional approval for the re-quotation of its Shares on ASX. Proposed Director, Mr George Parthimos, is a substantial shareholder of Mi Media Holdings Limited and will therefore also benefit from the Offer. Perpetual Consulting Group Pty Ltd, of which Directors Mr George Karafotias and Mr Eric Jiang are directors and shareholders, will provide promotional services to the Company in respect of the Offer and will therefore also benefit from the Offer.	Further details regarding the Proposed Transaction are set out in Section 2.4 of this Prospectus.
What is the Offer?	The Offer is for up to 30,000,000 new fully paid ordinary shares in the capital of the Company to raise up to $6,000,000. The minimum subscription for the Offer is 15,000,000 new fully paid ordinary shares in the capital of the Company to raise $3,000,000. No shares will be issued pursuant to the Offer until this minimum subscription amount is raised.	See Section 1 of this Prospectus for further details of the Offer.

How will the Company use the proceeds from the Offer?	The proceeds from the Offer (after the deduction of expenses) will be predominately used for further technology commercialisation with a focus on Miroamer's GM-tailored in-vehicle infotainment application. 02 Company and Business Overview

2 Company and Business Overview

2.1 COMPANY HISTORY

Connexion Media Limited (formerly ECSI Limited) was incorporated on 26 June 1945 and is a public company that has been listed on the ASX since 1 January 1974.

Most recently, the Company's principal activity was intended to be the implementation of an enhanced security monitoring system and access control system as part of the National Alarm Response System in China. However, this did not eventuate and the Directors looked to acquire a suitable alternative business.

On 13 April 2011, the Company announced it had signed a term sheet regarding the acquisition of interests in certain uranium tenements in Africa (African Transaction). A further announcement was made on 27 January 2012 announcing the proposed acquisition of certain Hungarian coal permits (Hungary Transaction). On 15 August 2012, the shareholders of the Company approved the African Transaction and the Hungary Transaction.

On 28 December 2012, an announcement was made by the Company that it had decided not to proceed with either the Hungary Transaction or the African Transaction. The decision not to proceed with the Hungary Transaction and the African Transaction was considered by the Directors to be in the best interests of the Shareholders.

On 28 December 2012, the Company announced that it had entered into an agreement regarding the acquisitions of 100% of the issued shares in Miroamer Pty Ltd in exchange for the issue of 1,930,000,000 Shares in Connexion at a value of $0.005 per Share (being a total value of $9,650,000), subject to Shareholder approval.

On 26 February 2013, a further announcement was made by the Company to confirm that the Proposed Transaction was progressing forward and that an independent expert had been appointed to prepare an independent expert's report to accompany the notice of meeting for shareholder approval.

There were several delays and extensive costs associated with conducting due diligence on Miroamer (including commercial and legal due diligence).

Ultimately, the Directors considered that it was likely that the Company may not be able to meet all material commitments before the proposed transaction was completed, accordingly the Directors resolved to place the Company into voluntary administration on 11 June 2013.

2.2 RECENT ADMINISTRATION

On 11 June 2013, the Administrator was appointed as the administrator of the Company pursuant to section 436A of the Corporations Act.

At a meeting of the Company's creditors on 10 September 2013, it was resolved that the Company execute a deed of company arrangement (DOCA). The DOCA was entered into on 19 September 2013 by the Company and the Administrator (with the Administrator becoming the administrator of the DOCA) and was conditional on:

- (a) the issue of Shares to convertible loan holders to enable all of the Company's liabilities to convertible loan holders to be extinguished, subject to Shareholder approval;
- (b) the issue of Shares to MMH to raise $200,000 for future use by the Company, subject to Shareholder approval;
- (c) the acquisition of Shares by MMH from a shareholder, subject to Shareholder approval; and
- (d) the extension of the repayment of a previously provided secured working capital loan and the waiver of any and all of the lender's rights in respect of any current default by the Company under the terms of the loan.

The conditions of the DOCA were satisfied and the DOCA was fully effectuated on 22 February 2014. The Company is no longer subject to external administration.

2.3 CHANGE IN NATURE AND SCALE OF ACTIVITIES

Following termination of the DOCA, the Directors considered that it was in the best interest of the Company to continue to proceed with the acquisition of 100% of the shares in Miroamer. As the acquisition of Miroamer involves scrip consideration and will change the nature and scale of the Company's activities, a Notice of General Meeting to convene a meeting of Shareholders where the Shareholders were to consider and, if thought appropriate, pass resolutions in respect of the following matters:

- (a) Consolidation of Capital - the consolidation of the existing Shares on a 1 for 100 basis;
- (b) Issue of 45,000,000 Shares to MMH as consideration for the acquisition of the share in Miroamer;
- (c) The change in nature and scale of activities as a result of the acquisition of Miroamer;
- (d) Issue of 30,000,000 Shares under the Offer to raise up to $6,000,000;
- (e) Issue of 7,500,000 Shares to Perpetual Consulting Group Pty Ltd, as promoter;
- (f) The change in Company name to Connexion Media Limited; and
- (g) The appointment of George Parthimos as a Director.

The resolutions above were approved by Shareholders at the General Meeting on 22 April 2014.

2.4 THE PROPOSED TRANSACTION

The Company has agreed to acquire the entire issued share capital of Miroamer Pty Ltd from MMH for $9,000,000 to be satisfied by the Company issuing 45,000,000 Shares to MMH. Accordingly, Miroamer will become a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company on completion of the Proposed Transaction.

A summary of the share sale agreement is set out in Section 7.2 of this Prospectus.

2.5 NEW ACTIVITIES

Miroamer Pty Ltd is a company primarily focused on developing technologies for web connected vehicles, more specifically:

- (a) Infotainment services - of which Miroamer's digital media content aggregation and distribution application (or App), known as "miRoamer" is the first product the Company has developed; and
- (b) Vehicle data services - data analytics via information derived from the use of the Company's App.

An App is a software application that is designed to run on smartphones, tablet computers and other mobile devices. Apps are distributed through application platforms, such as the Apple App Store and the Blackberry App World. Some Apps are free to download and use, while others must be purchased, sometimes on a regular subscription basis.

Miroamer Pty Ltd has spent several years developing a digital media content aggregation and distribution App. The application has been in development since 2008 and was initially launched through consumer electronics products and smartphone applications. The application is an online internet portal where users can access all of their favourite providers and stations, and then customise how they access them at will. Users can setup their own search options, remove certain providers, subscribe to premium services, even lookup a station guide, all from the same place.

Since initial launch, Miroamer Pty Ltd has customised the application for in-vehicle infotainment purposes so that automotive and equipment manufacturers can add digital media content to their product offerings. Tailoring the application for the automotive industry has been a key strategic priority for Miroamer Pty Ltd, because this industry has recognised that its consumers are looking to have the same level of features and services in their vehicles as they currently have on their portable devices (i.e. smartphone and tablets).

Built into the application is a data collection and analytics opportunity allowing for the collection and analysis of detailed anonymous data from users for on sale to third parties such as insurance companies and advertisers, which in the future is expected to provide the predominant revenue source for the Company.

Whilst not the focus of its immediate business plan, the Company also sees an opportunity to develop or acquire other complimentary Apps for web connected vehicles.

2.6 CURRENT PRODUCT OVERVIEW

Miroamer Pty Ltd has designed, built and developed its digital media content aggregation and distribution App, known as "miRoamer" for several platforms:

- (a) automotive;
- (b) mobile (i.e. smartphones and tablets);
- (c) web portal (i.e. desktop or laptop); and
- (d) consumer home electronics.

The Company's current focus is the automotive platform. The automotive platform is distinct from the other platforms in that in order for Apps to be able to run while driving, the App needs to comply with driver distraction guidelines in the territory of use.

Vehicles can connect to the internet through:

- (a) embedded devices - i.e. in-car systems;
- (b) tethered solutions - where a smartphone is used as a modem to enable connectivity; or
- (c) integrated solutions - where the smartphone is integrated into the car system.

The embedded solution is the approach being used by GM which have designed their own App framework for their vehicles. Miroamer is an Application Development Partner of GM. Miroamer has customised its App to GM specifications, and the App has been integrated into pre-production models. The GM customised App is in the process of being vetted by GM and Miroamer considers that it is well progressed in the App approval process for its GM customised App to be made available 'out of the box' in web-connected GM vehicles. A summary of Miroamer's contractual arrangements with GM is set out in Section 7.6 of this Prospectus.

Tethered solutions employ the well-established methods of integrating your phone via Bluetooth or an auxiliary cable.

Integrated solutions rely on adapting the smartphone's software with the car's infotainment software. This is expected to occur through a standardised smartphone integration solution. A number of manufacturers will utilise MirrorLink for these purposes. MirrorLink was developed by the Car Connectivity Consortium (CCC) and offers seamless connectivity between a smartphone and the car infotainment system. Drivers just connect the phone with a cable and immediately gain access to phone applications via the car's navigation screen and dashboard/steering-wheel buttons. In order for the Company's App to be able to utilise the MirrorLink technology it must be certified. If a product is MirrorLink-certified, this means it has been vetted by a CCC-approved certification laboratory and will work with a complementary MirrorLink-enabled device or system. If a smartphone app is MirrorLink-certified, this means it is adaptable to restricted or safe-driving mode when the smartphone is connected via MirrorLink to a MirrorLink-enabled vehicle. Part of the Company's immediate business plan is to seek MirrorLink certification.

In order for the Company to have a consistent and seamless digital media content aggregation and distribution App across all platforms, the Company's immediate business plans also include updating its iOS and Android mobile Apps and its web portal. The Company has recently purchased source code for this purpose.

As noted above, it is expected that the predominant revenue source for the Company will be through the on-sale by the Company of anonymous data collected by the Company from the use of its Apps. The miRoamer App can collect several pieces of information, including information about radio stations listened to, navigation information (including GPS positions) and vehicle information (including for example, tyre pressure and oil levels).

Through the use of the App the Company will collect personal and other information about its users on an "opt-in" basis, and is cognisant of the privacy implications of collecting and disclosing such information. As a consequence the Company will only share non-personally-identifiable information with third-parties (including overseas recipients) for advertising and analytics purposes.

Where permitted, this data is proposed to be packaged and on-sold to advertisers, insurance companies, municipalities, automotive suppliers and fast food restaurants for targeted advertising purposes. It will also be used by the Company to market pre-roll audio advertising commercials on its Apps. It should be noted that the Company has not entered into any data on-sale contracts at this time. It is possible that the Company:

- may not establish a large enough audience size; and/or
- may not compile sufficient data for on-sale to third parties; and/or
- may not enter into data sale contracts,

to generate any revenue.

All data collected from use of the App will be stored in a secure cloud-based system, provided by Buddy Platform, Inc. (a Seattle-based company) that the Company has a marketing partnership agreement with, with all appropriate security measures provided to ensure that privacy is maintained. A summary of the marketing integration agreement is set out in Section 7.7 of this Prospectus.

2.7 TECHNOLOGY

Following a successful 100% acquisition of shares in Miroamer Pty Ltd, Connexion has entitlement to all of the intellectual property and confidential information associated with the miRoamer digital media content aggregation and distribution App.

The intellectual property consists primarily of copyright in:

- the miRoamer mobile application code;
- the source code in the miRoamer software;
- the miRoamer server code;
- the miRoamer logo; and
- the literary and artistic works incorporated in the application.

There is no system of registration for copyright in Australia. Copyright is automatically granted to the owner under the Copyright Act 1968 when the idea or creative concept is documented, on paper or electronically. Miroamer Pty Ltd has contractually secured ownership of all copyright incorporated in the App as well as the protection of all trade secrets and know how associated with the App.

The intellectual property also includes the trade marks protecting the MiRoamer brand in Australia. A trade mark is a sign used in the course of trade or commerce to distinguish the goods/services of an entity in the marketplace from those of other traders. Trade marks can be registered or unregistered. Trade marks can be registered for a period of 10 years and then subsequently renewed for indefinite periods of 10 years. The trade marks listed below are currently owned by MiRoamer Pty Ltd and are registered with IP Australia:

TRADE MARK NO,	TRADE MARK	GOODS/ SERVICES	STATUS	RENEWAL DUE
1216697		Class: 38 Internet portal services	Registered	21 December 2017
1216557		Class: 38 Internet portal services	Registered	20 December 2017

Miroamer Pty Ltd is currently analysing the prospects of brand protection in other jurisdictions.

Miroamer Pty Ltd is also the registrant for the domain name www.miroamer.com.

Miroamer Pty Ltd has not applied for a patent in Australia in respect of the miRoamer App. A patent is a right that is granted for any device, system, substance, method or process that is new, inventive (or innovative for innovation patents), and useful. Software generally is not patentable but in some cases, the function or technical effect of the software may be considered patentable. In this case the miRoamer App is not considered registrable as a patent in Australia and therefore has been protected by way of confidentiality and trade secrets as well as the automatic copyright protection as outlined above. In 2011, a US patent application to protect the method for delivering content in respect of the miRoamer App was made. This application initially failed due to prior art and Miroamer Pty Ltd ultimately abandoned the application as it considered that it would not be worthwhile to pursue the application further at this time due to the inherent difficulty in patenting software derived applications (as described above).

Miroamer also contracts with a number of third party service providers (for example for hosting and storage services) and third party open source software licences. Following a successful 100% acquisition of shares in Miroamer, the Company will have the benefit of these third party arrangements.

Miroamer also contracts with several content providers for their digital media content to be made available through the miRoamer App. This includes ShoutCast and Radio. Miroamer has contracted with these parties on normal commercial terms.

2.8 STRATEGY

The Company's dominant strategy is a business-to-business approach to the market, engaging vehicle manufacturers, original equipment manufacturers and telecommunication carriers to access their respective captive markets of consumers with collaborations, joint ventures, revenue sharing agreements, and other strategic relationships, similar to the GM relationship described above.

The core objective of the Company is to build and maintain a number of recurring revenue streams which will grow over time with audience size. Such as:

- (a) pre-roll audio advertising commercials;
- (b) audio commercial sponsorship campaigns per station per territory;
- (c) banner advertising on web portal and smartphone apps; and
- (d) data analytics and reporting.

These recurring revenue streams are expected to begin once the Company's App is available for use and the Company has established a large enough audience to compile sufficient data to be attractive for on-sale to third parties, such as advertisers for the pre-roll audio service, and insurance companies for the data analytics information service. It should be noted that the Company has not entered into any data on-sale contracts at this time. It is possible that the Company:

- may not establish a large enough audience size; and/or
- may not compile sufficient data for on-sale to third parties; and/or
- may not enter into data sale contracts,

to generate any revenue.

2.9 MARKET OVERVIEW

The Company's key focus is the global connected car market.

GSMA Association (GSMA) Car Connectivity Forum members (which include major automakers and mobile operators) are targeting that by 2025 every car will be connected to the internet, whether through embedded devices, tethered solutions or integrated solutions¹. The number of cars equipped with embedded connectivity is expected to reach 140 million vehicles by 2018, rising to 600 million vehicles by 2025². The fastest growth areas for connected vehicles are expected to be China and Western Europe³.

Internet radio and music services in particular are considered fundamental services to be included in every web-connected in-vehicle infotainment solution. It is expected that in-vehicle internet radio listening will reach 89.7 million by 2019⁴. This provides an opportunity for the Company.

2 GSMA Connected Living programme: mAutomotive, 2025 Every Car Connected: Forecasting the Growth and Opportunity.

3 GSMA Connected Living programme: mAutomotive, 2025 Every Car Connected: Forecasting the Growth and Opportunity.

4 IHS iSuppli (December 2012).

Smartphone app users grew from 0 to 1 billion users within 6 years⁵. The Company expects connected vehicle app usage to grow at a similar rate. The App development industry emerged around 2008 following the launch of Apple's iPhone and App store. The automotive infotainment sector, however, is still in its infancy with the prevalence of web-connected vehicles expected to take off in 2014. Automakers have recognised that consumers are looking to have the same level of features and services in their vehicles as they currently have on their portable devices so they are developing improved in-vehicle infotainment services to accommodate this.

New government initiatives globally to limit driver distraction and promote safe driving by limiting the use of smartphones in vehicles means that not all Apps will be suitable or approved for use via in-vehicle infotainment services.

The mobile App development industry has relatively low entry barriers and given the global nature of the industry there is a high level of competition. The barriers to entry in the automotive infotainment industry are considered by the Company to be slightly higher because of the approval and certification processes, which is more costly for App developers, in order for their applications to be considered safe for distribution.

In respect of the miRoamer App, there are competitive products already available from well-established brands. However, the Company considers that its key point of difference is its focus on in-vehicle infotainment services generally, rather than simply its radio streaming App. As noted above, in order to compete in the market, the Company's strategy is a business-to-business market approach, engaging vehicle manufacturers, original equipment manufacturers and telecommunication carriers.

2.10 SIGNIFICANT DEPENDENCIES

The success of the Company will be subject to the following key dependencies:

- (a) the Company's customised automotive App being approved and certified by automotive producers and other industry participants for distribution via their web-connected vehicles, in particular GM and MirrorLink;
- (b) sufficient consumer uptake of its App to generate sufficient data for on-sale to third parties for advertising and data analytics purposes;
- (c) the third party contributors to the Company's App (including content partners, service providers and open source software licensors) continuing to contract with the Company; and
- (d) the Company's key personnel (or suitable replacements) being retained to develop the Company's technology and established and new customer relationships.

2.11 FINANCE ARRANGEMENTS

Pursuant to the DOCA, amounts owing to creditors were settled either in full or for a negotiated amount. Accordingly, following external administration, the only material financial liability of the Company was a secured working capital loan of $296,500 plus interest, repayable in February 2015. The Company will repay this financial liability in full out of the proceeds raised pursuant to the Offer.

On 17 April 2014, MMH agreed to provide the Company with a loan of up to $200,000 to fund the Company's out of pocket expenses associated with the Proposed Transaction and the Offer. A summary of the loan agreement is provided in Section 7.4 of this Prospectus. The Company will repay this financial liability in full out of the proceeds raised pursuant to the Offer.

Following completion of the Offer, the Company considers that it will have sufficient funds to carry out its immediate objectives as described in this Prospectus. Should the Company identify any acquisition targets or should unforeseeable or intervening events arise, the Company may require additional finance to fund these, either in the form of equity or debt.

2.12 CAPITAL MANAGEMENT POLICY

The Board does not anticipate that the Company will have surplus funds in the immediate future that will enable it to pay dividends to Shareholders.

04 Risk Factors

4 Risk Factors

There are a number of factors, both specific to the Company and of a general nature, which may affect the future operating and financial performance of the Company and the value of an investment in the Company.

Some of these factors can be mitigated by the use of safeguards and appropriate commercial action. However, many are outside the control of the Company and cannot be mitigated.

This section describes certain risks associated with an investment in the Company. Prior to making an investment decision, prospective investors should carefully consider the following risk factors, as well as the other information contained in this Prospectus.

4.2 RISK FACTORS SPECIFIC TO THE COMPANY

(a) Re-quotations of the Shares

The Shares have been suspended from quotation on ASX since 3 August 2012. The Shares will not be reinstated to official quotation until the Company has complied with the requirements of Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules.

There is a risk that the Company may not be able to meet the requirements of Chapters 1 and 2 of the ASX Listing Rules. In addition, it is within the ASX's discretion whether or not to approve the re-quotations of the Shares on the ASX.

If the Shares are not reinstated to official quotation, funds will be returned to investors.

(b) Transaction risk

Completion of the Proposed Transaction is subject to a number of conditions precedent as summarised in Section 7.2.

If the Proposed Transaction does not proceed to completion because of the failure to satisfy a condition precedent or otherwise, funds will be returned to investors.

(c) Limited operating history

Miroamer's business that is being acquired by the Company has only a limited operating history upon which an evaluation of future prospects can be based. Investors must consider the risks and difficulties frequently encountered by businesses with limited operating histories.

No assurances can be given that the Company will achieve commercial viability through the successful implementation of its business plans.

(d) No revenue has been generated or secured

Miroamer is yet to generate revenue and has no current arrangements in place to guarantee any revenue, although it has identified several potential sources. The Company's ability to generate revenue will be dependent on:

- > the Company's applications being approved and certified by automotive producers, in particular GM, for distribution via App platforms;
- > sufficient consumer uptake of its applications to generate sufficient data for on-sale to third parties for advertising and analytic purposes; and
- > identifying, and entering into contracts with, suitable counter-parties in respect of its proposed revenue generating activities.

It is possible that:

- > the Company's applications will not be approved and certified for distribution by GM or other automotive manufacturers and/or the Company will be required to make costly modifications to its applications in order to obtain the required certifications and approvals;
- > the Company may not establish a large enough audience to generate sufficient data for on-sale to third parties. and/or
- > the Company may not identify suitable counter-parties in respect of its proposed revenue generating activities.

The eventuation of any of these risks will negatively affect the Company's ability to generate revenue.

(e) Reliance on key personnel

On successful completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Company's operational success will substantially depend on the continuing efforts of its senior executives (in particular George Parthimos). The loss of services of one or more senior executives may have an adverse effect on the Company's operations.

(f) Collection of information

The key potential revenue source for the Company will be the disclosure of information collected from users of the Company's products. The collection and disclosure of this information may be subject to government policy and legislation in Australia and a number of different jurisdictions in which the Company's business will operate. Failure by the Company to comply with these policies and regulations may result in financial or other penalties being incurred by the Company, as well as an impact on the Company's reputation, which will have an adverse effect on the Company.

(g) Reliance on access to internet

On successful completion of the Proposed Transaction the Company's success will depend on the ability of its users to access the internet. Should access be disrupted, restricted or affected, usage of the Company's products may be negatively impacted.

(h) Maintenance of key business partner relationships

The overall strategy of the Company is a business-to-business approach to the market, engaging vehicle manufacturers, original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) and telecommunication carriers to access their respective "captive" markets of thousands of consumers with collaborations, joint ventures, revenue sharing agreements, and other strategic relationships.

A failure to maintain relationships with these business partners could result in a withdrawal of support, which will negatively impact the Company's financial position.

(i) Threat to intellectual property

On successful completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Company will acquire trade secrets and other intellectual property rights that are important assets. The Company must rely on a combination of confidentiality and license agreements with its consultants and third parties with whom it has relationships, as well as domain name, trade secret and copyright laws, to protect its brand and other intellectual property rights. However, various events outside of the Company's control could pose a threat to its intellectual property rights, as well as to its products and technologies.

(j) Product failures

The performance of Miroamer's technologies and products is critical to its reputation and to its ability to achieve market acceptance of these products. Any product failure or failure of a product to meet a customer's needs and requirements could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial conditions.

(k) Reliance on new products

The Company's success will depend, in part, on its ability to expand its products and grow Miroamer's business in response to changing technologies, user and third party service providers' demands and competitive pressures. Failure to do so may impact the success of the Company.

(l) Superseding technology

There is a risk that, as marketable technologies continue to develop in the IT industry, there may be certain information technology and product developments that supersede, and render obsolete, the existing product offering of Miroamer, which would negatively affect the Company's profitability.

(m) Competition

The internet radio streaming market is strongly contested by a number of well-respected organisations. There is the risk that Miroamer will be unable to compete in this landscape. Miroamer's performance may be affected by the level of competition in the regions in which it operates, which may result in general price reductions, reduced operating margins and a loss of market share.

(n) Market segments

The business drivers and market segments that Miroamer has identified as being integral to its success (web connected vehicles) and growth may experience either slower than expected growth or may be surpassed in importance by other drivers or market segments.

(o) Product distribution and usability

On successful completion of the Proposed Transaction, the Company intends to develop its products for use across a number of internet access platforms, mobile and desktop devices and software operating systems. The Company will be dependent on the ability of its products to operate on such platforms, devices and operating systems however it cannot control the maintenance, upkeep and continued supply of effective service from external suppliers in these areas. Any changes in such platforms, operating systems or devices that adversely affect the functionality of the Company's products or give preferential treatment to competitive products could adversely affect usage of the Company's products.

(p) On-going capital requirements for the Company

While the proceeds of this Offer are intended to adequately satisfy the Company's current and anticipated capital requirements, if the Company requires access to further funding at any stage in the future, the Company may be adversely affected in a material way if, for any reason, access to that capital is not available. There can be no assurance that additional funds will be available. If additional funds should be raised by issuing equity securities, this might result in dilution to the then existing shareholders.

(q) No current intention to pay dividends

The Company does not anticipate declaring or paying any dividends to Shareholders in the foreseeable future. Consequently, Shareholders may need to rely on sales of their Shares to realise any future gains on their investment.

(r) Trading liquidity

Prior to the Offer, there has been no public market for the Shares since 3 August 2012. There can be no guarantee that an active market in the Shares will develop.

Moreover, between 50% and 70% of the Shares of the Company will be held in escrow for between 12 and 24 months and trading in Shares may be less liquid during this period.

4.3 GENERAL RISK FACTORS

(a) Share investment

Investors should be aware that there are risks associated with investment in shares of companies listed on a stock exchange. The value of the Company's shares can be expected to fluctuate depending on various factors including general worldwide economic conditions, changes in government policies, investor perceptions, movements in interest rates and stock markets, prices of the Company's services, variations in the operating costs and costs of capital replacement which the Company may in the future require. Accordingly, assuming that the Shares are granted official quotation by ASX, the Shares may trade on ASX at higher or lower prices than their issue price.

Each potential investor should consider whether shares are a suitable investment for them before deciding to invest in the Company's Shares. Any investor in doubt about investing in shares should consult their stockbroker, accountant, lawyer or other professional adviser immediately.

(b) Economic risk and external market factors

Factors, such as, but not limited to, political movements, stock market trends, changing customer preferences, interest rates, inflation levels, commodity prices, industrial disruption, environmental impacts, international competition, taxation changes and legislative or regulatory changes, may all have an adverse impact on the Company's operating costs, profit margins and share price. These factors are beyond the control of the Company and the Company cannot, to any degree of certainty, predict how they will impact on the Company.

(c) War and terrorist attacks

War or terrorist attacks anywhere in the world could result in a decline in economic conditions worldwide or in a particular region. There could also be a resultant material adverse effect on the business, financial condition and financial performance of the Company.

(d) Legislative changes, Government policy and approvals

Changes in relevant taxes, legal and administration regimes, accounting practices and government policies in Australia and in other places where the Company conducts its business may adversely affect the financial performance of the Company.

4.4 INVESTMENT SPECULATIVE

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of the Shares offered under this Prospectus. Therefore, the Shares to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus carry no guarantee with respect to the payment of dividends, returns of capital or the market value of those securities.

Potential investors should consider that an investment in the Company is speculative and should consult their professional advisers before deciding whether to apply for Shares pursuant to this Prospectus.

Notes to the Financial Information

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of preparation

The financial information included in this section of the Prospectus relates to the historical information of Connexion Media Limited and Miroamer Pty Ltd, and of the pro-forma transactions set out in Note 2. For the purposes of the preparation of the pro-forma financial information, the entity to which the consolidated information applies shall be referred to as "Connexion Media Limited".

The financial information included in this Prospectus has been prepared in accordance with the measurement and recognition criteria of applicable Australian Accounting Standards, mandatory professional reporting requirements, the specific accounting policies detailed in this Note 1 and the adjustments and assumptions detailed in Note 2.

Certain disclosure requirements under the Corporations Act 2001 and applicable Australian Accounting Standards have not been included where the information which would be disclosed is not considered material or relevant to potential investors.

Both companies adopted the accrual basis of accounting, which includes the historical cost convention and the going concern assumption. All amounts have been presented in Australian dollars, which are the companies' functional and presentation currency. The significant accounting policies which have been adopted in the preparation of the historical and pro-forma historical financial information (collectively referred to as the "financial statements") are:

Principles of consolidation

A controlled entity is any entity controlled by an accounting acquirer. Control exists where an entity has the capacity and power to govern the decision-making in relation to the financial and operating policies of an investee and also participates in the variable returns of that investee.

All inter-group balances and transactions between entities in the group, including any unrealised profits or losses, have been eliminated on consolidation. Accounting policies of controlled entities have been changed where necessary to ensure consistencies with those policies adopted by the parent entity.

Reverse acquisitions of entities that are not businesses

When an entity (the accounting acquirer) obtains control over another entity and that entity is not a business, the accounting acquirer applies the group's accounting policy for consolidations. Assets and liabilities consolidated into the group are recorded at their book values. Any excess of the fair value of the consideration paid in respect of acquiring control over that entity in excess of the book values of that entity's assets and liabilities is expensed to the profit and loss, unless those costs can be directly attributed to the successful issue of share capital, in which case they are charged to equity as a cost of issuing equity. Where consideration for the acquisition involves the issue of equity by the accounting acquirer, such equity is measured at its grant date fair value.

For this transaction, the Directors have assessed that Connexion Media Limited as a stand-alone entity does not meet the definition of a business, as defined in Australian Accounting Standards and, alternately, that Miroamer satisfies the definition of an accounting acquirer.

Financial Instruments and Convertible Notes

Financial assets and liabilities are recognised when an entity becomes party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. On initial recognition, financial instruments are originally measured at fair value plus transaction costs by applying trade date accounting.

Classification and subsequent measurement of financial liabilities

All financial instruments thereafter are subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method. Amortised cost is calculated as a) the amount at which the financial liability is measured at initial recognition; b) less principal repayments; c) plus or minus the cumulative amortisation of the difference, if any, between the amounts initially recognised and the maturity amount calculated using the effective interest method.

The effective interest method is used to allocate interest income or interest expense over the relevant period and is equivalent to the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts (including fees, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial instrument to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or financial liability.

Convertible notes

When a financial liability features a fixed equity conversion feature, upon initial recognition it is classified as a liability when a contractual clause exists that specifies the repayment of that instrument in cash at the option of the counterparty. Upon satisfaction of this condition, the liability component is measured at fair value, and the residual value, representing the entitlement to convert the financial instrument into equity, is recognised in equity. When there is no reliable market value evidence for the fair value of the liability component, the market interest rate of the liability component is estimated to be the coupon rate set in the convertible note.

2. ASSUMPTIONS APPLIED IN PREPARING THE FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The pro-forma financial information has been included for illustrative purposes to reflect the position of both transacting entities on the assumption that the following transactions had occurred as at 31 December 2013:

Significant transactions that have taken place between 31 December 2013 and the date of this Prospectus – Connexion Media Limited

- (a) Subsequent to 31 December 2013, Connexion Media Limited drew down the full limit of its DOCA loan line of credit with Mi Media Holdings Limited, being $200,000, in order to extinguish other third party liabilities that were accrued on its statement of financial position as at 31 December 2013 and expenses that arose subsequent to 31 December 2013. 08 Additional Information

8 Additional Information

8.1 RIGHTS ATTACHING TO SHARES

The shares to be issued under this Prospectus will rank equally with the existing fully paid ordinary shares in the Company.

The rights attaching to shares are set out in the Company's constitution, and, in certain circumstances, are regulated by the Corporations Act, the ASX Listing Rules and general law. The constitution of the Company may be inspected during normal business hours at the registered office of the Company at Level 11, 499 St Kilda Road, Melbourne.

The following is a summary of the principal rights of the holders of ordinary shares of the Company. This summary is not exhaustive nor does it constitute a definitive statement of the rights and liabilities of the Company's members.

This summary assumes that the Company is admitted to the Official List of ASX.

(a) General meeting and notices

Each member is entitled to receive notice of, and to attend and vote at, general meetings of the Company and to receive all notices, accounts and other documents required to be sent to members under the Company's constitution, the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

(b) Voting rights

Subject to any rights or restrictions for the time being attached to any class or classes of shares, at a general meeting of the Company every holder of fully paid ordinary shares present in person or by an attorney, representative or proxy has one vote on a show of hands (unless a member has appointed 2 proxies) and one vote per share on a poll.

A person who holds a share which is not fully paid is entitled, on a poll, to a fraction of a vote equal to the proportion which the amount paid bears to the total issue price of the share.

Where there are 2 or more joint holders of a share, only the member whose name appears first in the register of members is entitled to vote at a general meeting.

(c) Issues of further shares

The Directors may:

- (i) issue or dispose of shares to any person at any time and on any terms and conditions and having attached to them any preferred, deferred or other special rights or restrictions, whether with regard to dividend, voting, return of capital or otherwise, as the Directors think; and
- (ii) grant to any person an option over shares or pre-emptive rights at any time and for any consideration as they think fit.

The Directors must ensure that the issue of securities following the exercise, conversion or paying up of any security of the Company quoted by ASX is not in any way prevented, delayed or interfered with by the Company except as permitted by the Listing Rules.

(d) Variation of rights

At present, the Company has on issue one class of shares only, namely ordinary shares.

The Company may vary or cancel the rights attaching to any class of shares only if the variation or cancellation is permitted by the Corporations Act and is approved by special resolution of each of the Members holding shares of the relevant class.

The Directors must give written notice of the variation or cancellation to the Members holding the shares of the relevant class within seven days of the variation or cancellation.

(e) Transfer of shares

Subject to the Company's constitution, the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules, ordinary shares are freely transferable.

Subject to the Corporations Act, the ASX Listing Rules or the Operating Rules, Shares are transferable by an instrument of transfer in writing in any usual or common form or in any other form that the Directors approve.

The Board may refuse to register a transfer of shares only if that refusal would not contravene the ASX Listing Rules or the Operating Rules. If the Board refuses to register a transfer, the Company must give the lodging party written notice of the refusal and the reasons for it within 5 business days after the transfer is delivered to the Company. The Board must not register a transfer of shares if the Corporations Act, the ASX Listing Rules or the Operating Rules forbid registration.

(f) Dividends

Subject to the Company's constitution and the Corporations Act, the Board may resolve to pay any dividend it thinks appropriate and fix the time for payment. Subject to the terms of issue of shares, the Company may pay a dividend on one class of shares to the exclusion of another class.

(g) Winding up

Subject to the Company's constitution, the Corporations Act and to the terms of issue of the shares, if the Company is wound up and the property of the Company available is more than sufficient to pay: (i) all the debts and liabilities of the Company; and (ii) the costs, charges and expenses of the winding up, the members will be entitled to participate in any surplus assets of the Company in proportion to the percentage of the capital paid up on their shares.

(h) Dividend reinvestment and share plans

The Board may adopt and implement dividend reinvestment plans (under which any member may elect that dividends payable by the Company be reinvested by way of subscription for fully paid shares in the Company) and any other share plans (under which any member may elect to forego any dividends that may be payable on all or some of the shares held by that member and to receive instead some other entitlement, including the issue of fully paid shares).

(i) Directors

The Company's constitution states that the minimum number of Directors is 3.

(j) Powers of the Board

Except as otherwise required by the Corporations Act, any other law, the ASX Listing Rules or the Company's constitution, the Board has power to manage the business of the Company and may exercise every right, power or capacity of the Company to the exclusion of the members (except to sell or dispose of the main undertaking of the Company).

8.2 INCENTIVE PLAN

The regulation and tax treatment of employee incentive plans are currently subject to review in a number of respects and accordingly the Directors have taken the view that the Company will not currently implement an employee incentive plan. As the Company's activities develop and any new regulations are implemented, the implementation of an incentive plan will be given further consideration to ensure that the relationship between the Company (and its related entities) and its employees is enhanced for their long-term mutual benefit.
